TAX IDENTIFICATION NUMBER

The Bursary is having challenges in remitting Withholding Tax and Value Added Tax to Federal Inland Revenue Services. This is due to the fact that most University Contractors do not have Tax Identification Number (TIN), an essential requirement for acceptance of tax remittances by the Federal Tax Authorities.

University Contractors and those wishing to transact business with the University are advised to acquire their Identification Number without further delay. The Number should be displayed on their business documents, including quotations, delivery notes, invoices and receipts.
